DEVELOPMENT COST CHARGES REVIEW

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2019

4:00 - 6:00 PM

Frank Jameson Community Centre
Lower Program Room
810 Sixth Avenue, Ladysmith, BC

What are DCCs?

Development Cost Charges (DCCs) are collected from developers to contribute to the cost of growth-related infrastructure (sanitary sewer, water, roads, storm drainage and parks). Generally, DCCs are paid when land is subdivided for single family residential development or when building permits are made for multi-family residential, commercial, industrial or institutional projects.

Who Should Attend?

Developers, stakeholders and members of the public are encouraged to attend the Open House to learn more about DCCs and to provide feedback on the current proposal. The DCC review involves developing growth estimates for a 20-year period along with growth-related capital projects and cost estimates. Come to the Open House and review the proposed rates.

Can't Make the Open House?

The display boards from the Open House will be available on the Town's website following the meeting. Feedback is due by February 22, 2019.
